A TRAITOR IN OUR MIDST: THE BLACK POINT SPY

In 2008 an archaeological team of seniors from East Lyme High School set out in search of a missing 19th century blacksmith shop. But their effort to solve a simple story of local history would unearth a tale far more fascinating and sinister. While working in the northeast quadrant of the dig a student suddenly announced that he had found something quite unusual...a thin, flat metal object, shovel shaped, and adorned with the emblem of history's most infamous tyrant - the Nazi swastika. Join local Historian Jim Littlefield as he shares a little known but intriguing story of Niantic's very own Nazi spy.
